Individual income tax filing opened on Jan. 24

The Indiana Department of Revenue (DOR) started accepting filings for 2021 individual income tax returns on Monday, Jan. 24 in concert with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Customers will have until Monday, Apr. 18, 2022, to file both their state and federal 2021 tax returns and pay any taxes owed.

DOR encourages customers not to file their state tax returns before they have gathered all necessary documentation. Attempting to file without all documents can delay the process and ultimately postpone any refund a customer may receive. For more information on what documents are needed to file an individual income tax return, visit dor.in.gov.

DOR also encourages customers to utilize electronic filing, online payment and direct deposit to significantly improve the quality and speed of return and refund processing.

Eligible taxpayers may be able to file their federal and state taxes for free through the INfreefile program. Participating vendors and eligibility requirements are available at freefile.dor.in.gov. Additional information on individual income tax filing include FAQs, tips and resources for free and low-cost tax preparation help are available at dor.in.gov/individual-income-taxes.

Customers who call DOR for assistance can expect longer than normal wait times. DOR says that the answer to most common tax questions can be found online through dor.in.gov. Customers who wish to contact DOR directly should use the secure messaging portal in the new Indiana Taxpayer Information Management Engine (INTIME) at intime.dor.in.gov for the most efficient service. INTIME registration takes just a few minutes for most users.

HERE'S WHAT YOU MISSED in this week's PULASKI COUNTY JOURNAL

VanDerAa advises of increases in assessed value expected in 2022

Assessor Holly VanDerAa and her deputies recently attended the semi-annual Indiana County Assessor's Conference in Indianapolis. The classes offered and taken were: cost tables; personal property, recent Indiana Board of Tax Review decisions and Indiana tax court cases, assessing government subsidized housing in Indiana, abatements, and cause and effects of their job along with round table discussions.

One of the biggest adjustments they found, which will affect Pulaski County and the entire State of Indiana, is the cost tables used in assessing all buildings has significantly changed for Jan. 1. For example, the first floor costs in the dwelling base rate increased 10% and upper floors increased 10% to 15%. Unfinished attic costs increased an additional 2% and finished attic costs increased 13%. Outbuildings (i.e. barns, sheds) are reflecting an increase in the cost tables of 19%. While reviewing the "cost tables" increases across the wide range of buildings even higher adjustments can be seen. An adjustment of this increase in the cost tables last happened four years ago.

Another piece of information to keep in mind is that the real estate market has sky-rocketed in northwest Indiana, which includes Pulaski County. This will also bring about an increase in assessed values. The assessor's office has seen sale prices being double or tripled the assessed value currently, which supports the cost table increase by the State of Indiana.

The agricultural rate is going from $1,290 base rate per acre in 2021 taxes payable 2022 to $1,500 base rate per acre in 2022 taxes payable in 2023.

These changes, among others, will be reflected in our assessed values for the tax year 1-1-22 payable in 2023.

Any questions or concerns can be directed to Assessor Holly VanDerAa at 574-946-3845.
