Winamac ACE Hardware helps Panhandle Pathway with funding

The Winamac ACE Hardware store is an active participant in project roundup, a fundraising event where Riley Hospital for Children and local Winamac area nonprofit organizations receive funds from cash receipts rounded up to the next dollar. The first week of each month funds are sent to Riley's. The third week of the month, local area nonprofits are the recipients of these funds. For the third week of January, the Friends of the Panhandle Pathway, Inc., a local nonprofit and all-volunteer organization, was the recipient of these funds.

The Friends of the Panhandle Pathway receive no government funding to maintain and keep the 23-mile-long trail clean and safe. All work is completed through volunteers, donations and fundraising events like project roundup. Examples of large maintenance projects include the work this last year on three drain tiles going under the trail. These three projects totaled more than $13,000.

Tim Wiegand, owner of the Winamac ACE Hardware, recently presented a check to Friends of the Panhandle Pathway Inc. President John Bawcum. The funds that were raised are part of ACE Hardware roundup.

Friends of the Panhandle Pathway Inc. President John Bawcum said money raised locally is spent locally. Priority is given to local businesses when equipment, supplies or services are needed for the trail projects. The money comes here. The money is spent here, whenever possible.

The Friends of the Panhandle Pathway are thankful for Tim Wiegand, owner of the Winamac ACE Hardware store, for allowing their participation in project roundup. The group also thanks the public who came into ACE Hardware to make purchases and rounded up their sales to support the trail maintenance work.

Looking to the future, the Friends of the Panhandle Pathway will continue to work hard to keep the trail in good condition, clean and safe for all to use and enjoy.

Work continues on "Park to Park." This is a long-term effort to extend the trail north to the Tippecanoe River State Park and south to France Park.

Bingo for books

Eastern Pulaski Elementary School was the place to be on Jan. 25 when they hosted their annual Book Bingo Family Literacy Night.

Students and their families enjoyed popcorn while they played bingo, earning books for prizes.
