Keep campaign signs out of rights of way

The Indiana Department of Transportation urges political candidates and their supporters to keep the roads free from encroaching campaign signs for the safety of the motoring public. The signs can block visibility for traffic entering and exiting the roadway at intersections and driveways.

Areas that should remain sign-free include intersections, interchanges and rights of way that run along the roadway. Where the right of way is not clearly marked, boundaries may be estimated as the fence line, the back of the ditch or behind utility poles.

Indiana Code 9-21-4-6 authorizes Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) and local governments to remove advertising signs from their public highways. INDOT staff removes encroaching signs as part of their normal maintenance activities and takes the signs to a nearby INDOT maintenance facility, where they may be reclaimed by their owners.

For hours of operation or to report signs blocking visibility, contact your regional INDOT district. A map of INDOT's districts and subdistricts and contact information is at: <http://entapps.indot.in.gov/dotmaps/districtmaps>.

ZOR • 5-6-YEAR-OLD CAT • GREAT MOUSER!

Zor doesn't particularly like being held but LOVES being petted and would make a great barn cat. He does not do well confined or inside and becomes stressed.

Tax season tips: extending your time to file or pay what you owe

Submitted by Indiana Department of Revenue

The individual income tax season ends April 18, 2016. With only days until the filing deadline, here are some important tips for extending your time to file and paying what you owe.

If you can't complete your tax return by the deadline, you can complete an extension of time to file form with either the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) or the Indiana Department of Revenue. Filing either extension gives you until Nov. 14, to file your tax return.

If you filed an extension of time to file with the IRS, this also applies in Indiana. You do not have to file a separate form.

Although the extension provides an extension of time to file, you are still responsible for paying any tax owed by April 18, 2016.

If you don't have a federal extension, you can file for an Indiana extension by following these steps:

- Download Form IT-9 and mail it to the Indiana Department of Revenue. It must be postmarked by April 18, 2016.
- Determine if you owe tax to Indiana. You should pay at least 90 percent of the tax due when you submit the extension. Pay as much as you can to avoid penalty and interest.
- File and pay the remaining balance by the extension date (Nov. 14, 2016) to avoid penalty.

If you owe tax, pay as much as you can by the April 18 deadline. To pay online through the department's secure ePay site, visit www.epay.in.gov.

If you cannot pay the full amount due, you can:

- Pay as much as possible when you file your return. Penalty and interest will be due on the unpaid amount. The more you pay when you file, the less penalty and interest you will owe. The department will send a bill within a few weeks of your filing with the remaining amount due.
- If you cannot pay any amount, file your tax return without payment. The department will send a bill within a few weeks with the full amount due plus penalty and interest.
- You can qualify for a payment plan if you owe more than $100 and make a 20-percent down payment. Go to www.epay.in.gov or call 317-232-2165 after receiving a bill to establish a payment plan. Once the plan is approved, payments can be made online or by mail.

If you have questions about your individual income taxes, you may call 317-232-2240. Bilingual representatives are available. Department phone lines are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

If you'd prefer to speak to a tax analyst in person, you may visit one of our 12 office locations. Contact information is available at www.in.gov/dor/3390.htm.
