I think it's just vapor.
It won't hurt my kid like cigarettes, right?

The vapor that's inhaled from e-cigarettes contains harmful chemicals that can cause irreversible lung damage.

And e-cigarettes have nicotine,
a toxin that's addictive and can change your kid's brain.
Those are the facts.

Talk to your kid about vaping.

Sarah Davidson Baker

April 7, 1924 – May 14, 2021

Sarah Davidson Baker served as the Chief Librarian and Administrator of the Pulaski County Public Library from 1958-1984. At the beginning of her career, the Carnegie Library in Winamac served only the residents of Monroe Township. Under Mrs. Baker's leadership, the townships that were not served by a public library were contacted about their interest in joining a new library district. Eight of the nine townships decided to join the newly formed Pulaski County Public Library.

Each week, Mrs. Baker penned an article in the local paper as Der Buchwurm, German for 'The Bookworm.' The article served as a book review of new releases.

During her tenure, she was also a leader in her profession. She served as a director to the Northern Indiana Area Library Services Authority and director of the Indiana Cooperative Library Service (INCOLSA).

In February of 1980, Mrs. Baker watched from across the street as the old, empty grade school building next to the Library burned to the ground. Local firefighters made heroic efforts to protect the Carnegie Library and its collection. It was a heartbreaking time for the community, but Mrs. Baker used it as an opportunity to enhance services for the public.

With the increased service population, and increased demand for materials and space, the vacant lot beside the Library became the perfect opportunity for expansion. The Library expanded in 1983.

In the final Der Buchwurm column, she wrote, "Der Buchwurm has had the pleasure of sharing the world of books with our readers, and we will miss our library friends. The Library will always be dear to the heart of Sarah D. Baker and her "Buchwurm."

Mrs. Baker will always be dear to the heart of her community and the library staff. Thank you for your dedication and vision, Mrs. Baker; You will be missed.

Focused on providing exceptional service in a timely manner.

Thank You!

Thanks to everyone who attended and helped make Winamac Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep-Ram's GRAND OPENING event such a big success!
