HERE'S WHAT YOU MISSED IN THIS WEEK'S PULASKI COUNTY JOURNAL

Survey results: Companies anticipate growth, lack workforce needed

An annual Indiana Chamber of Commerce statewide workforce survey reinforces a common theme: Indiana companies are prepared to grow, but nearly three-quarters of the 526 respondents report that filling their workforce is challenging.

Economic prospects are bright. Fifty-eight percent of respondents expect the size of their workforce to increase in the next 12 to 24 months and another 38 percent anticipate stable employee counts. These mirror 2014 numbers (57 percent and 39 percent, respectively) and reinforce a shift from 2013 when just 36 percent foresaw growth and 59 percent looked at no changes in employee numbers.

As far as finding those employees, 74 percent note the challenge – with 24 percent reporting that “filling our workforce is our biggest challenge.” These results are a slight increase from 2014 findings of 72 percent indicating a challenge and 19 percent labeling it their biggest issue. Forty-three percent report they have left jobs unfilled in Indiana due to under-qualified candidates (a 4 percent increase over 2014).

“The continued positive outlook from Indiana employers is encouraging,” said Indiana Chamber of Commerce President and CEO Kevin Brinegar. “But despite various programs and local examples of strong education-business connections, it’s clear that much more work remains to provide workers with the skills they need for today’s and tomorrow’s jobs.”

The survey, in its eighth year, is provided to Indiana Chamber members and customers throughout the state. The largest respondent groups were organizations with between 50 and 249 employees (40 percent), 1-49 employees (36 percent) and manufacturing/advanced manufacturing industries (38 percent).

Additional key results from the 2015 survey:

- Critical thinking skills and personal qualities (responsibility, work ethic, willingness to learn) were cited as the most challenging to find among job applicants and new hires at 56 percent and 55 percent, respectively.
- While business-education partnerships have increased, a large gap remains. Of the respondents to a question asking about different types of engagement with local K-12 and postsecondary schools, 99 (28 percent) organizations indicate they are not involved currently but would like to be.
- Despite an increasing state and national focus on experiential learning opportunities for students, more than 200 respondents said they do not have an internship program.

Lack of time to hire and manage interns (36 percent) and the need for more information on starting an internship initiative (19 percent) were the top reasons given.

- A full 80 percent (45 percent definitely and 35 percent probably) indicated they would value a work ethic certificate issued by high schools that would demonstrate a student’s commitment to attendance, discipline, teamwork and other “soft skills.”
- More than three-quarters (77 percent) of those responding say they have no issues with job candidates expressing concerns about Indiana business locations or quality of life issues.

The Indiana Vision 2025 Report Card update for 2015, measuring Indiana’s progress on metrics related to the 33 goals in the plan, will be released on June 18. Both the Report Card and workforce survey results, along with Outstanding Talent best practices, will be the focus of six regional forums. Five of those sessions take place between June 22 and June 30 with visits to Fort Wayne, Evansville, Indianapolis, Merrillville and Elkhart. The sixth forum will be in July in Sellersburg.

HERE'S WHAT YOU MISSED IN THIS WEEK'S PULASKI COUNTY JOURNAL

American Red Cross encourages adding blood donation to vacation to-do lists

There are 100 days of summer and the American Red Cross urges eligible donors to choose their day to give blood and help ensure a sufficient blood supply.

Summer is a difficult time to collect enough blood to meet patient needs. Nearly 90 percent of donors surveyed this past spring said they planned to take a vacation this summer, potentially making them less available to give. In addition, many schools that host blood drives are out of session during the summer. But the need for blood donations is constant. Every two seconds someone in the U.S. needs blood.

Donors of all blood types – especially those with types O negative, A negative and B negative – are needed. The Red Cross must collect 15,000 blood donations every day to meet the needs of patients at approximately 2,600 hospitals and transfusion centers nationwide.

To make an appointment to give blood, download the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age (16 with parental consent in some states), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

UPCOMING BLOOD DONATION OPPORTUNITIES:

- June 24: 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Indiana Fallen Officer Blood Dr., Knights of Columbus, 340 E. 50 N., Winamac
- June 30: 2 to 6 p.m., Pulaski County Public Library, 121 S. Riverside Dr., Winamac.

Robots invade Eastern Pulaski Elementary

Statewide standardized tests and reading regulations seem to provide little to no room for teachers and students to be creative in learning.

However, the new reading robots in Eastern Pulaski's special needs class aim to do just the opposite, thanks to a grant by the Sherald and Verla Bonnell Family Educational Fund.

With students in grades one through five and at varied reading levels, finding reading activities to fit Valeri Gajda's entire special needs class can be a troublesome task. Gajda recognized the needs of her students and sought a way to address them.

The software program, "Reading A-Z," helps Gajda and her students to personalize their experience during the 90 minute, state required daily reading block.

Students have the ability to pick a story that is interesting to them and is at his or her individual reading level. The students can listen to, read independently or record themselves reading the story of their choice out loud. Based upon how much and how well each student reads (at his or her specified level), points are awarded. Points gained can be used to create a virtual avatar for the students' reading profiles, like Kalaeb Pace's reading robot.

The teacher then has the ability to monitor the students' reading progress and ability, making it easier for her to assess the individual needs of each student, and better prepare them for tests such as ISTEP and IREAD3.

With the goal of providing field of interest grants to support programs and services on behalf of educationally disadvantaged children or adults in Pulaski County, the Sherald and Verla Bonnell Family Educational Fund gifted the school with a grant of $500. The grant allowed for purchase and installation of the "Reading A-Z" program on 30 iPads for student use. With the addition of this program, Eastern Pulaski Elementary is on its way to being filled with some reading robots, and their iPads too.

For more information on endowment funds contact the Community Foundation at 127 E Pearl St. Winamac; 574-946-0906; or pccf@pulaskiccf.org.

Eastern Pulaski first-grader Kalaeb Pace uses points earned on Reading A-Z to build a reading robot. Students are able to use the Reading A-Z program because of funds from the Sherald and Verla Bonnell Family Educational Fund.

Eastern Pulaski first-graders Kalaeb Pace, Corrine Ulerick and EJ Edick listen to stories that are part of the Reading A-Z software program that personalizes their learning experience.
