10th annual Indiana Fallen Officer Blood Drive to honor local heroes

The community is invited to honor fallen officers by giving blood at memorial blood drives throughout the summer months across the state of Indiana during the 10th annual Fallen Officer Blood Drive Campaign. The American Red Cross works with individuals across Indiana in this statewide campaign each year to honor fallen officers and raise awareness of the need for blood.

Janice Starnes, whose husband Sergeant Daniel Starnes was killed in the line of duty in 2001, founded the campaign.

"Blood drives continue to grow and our officers are not forgotten thanks to the people who come to give blood in their memory," Starnes said.

More than 41,900 pints of blood have been donated through the Red Cross since the 2007 start of the Fallen Officer blood drives. Blood and platelet donations are needed every day for patients with many serious medical conditions. Accident and burn victims, heart surgery patients, organ transplant patients, and those receiving treatment for leukemia, cancer or sickle cell disease may all need blood. By giving blood through the Red Cross, it could help patients being treated at more than 80 hospitals across Indiana.

"Giving blood at one of these special blood drives is a wonderful way to remember those officers who have lost their lives and honor them with a gift that can help someone else continue to live," said Rodney Wilson, communications manager for the Red Cross.

This blood donation campaign comes at an important time of year. Blood and platelet donations often decline during the summer months when busy summer schedules and vacation plans can cause some donors to be less available to give. Additionally, blood donations at high school and college blood drives, which account for as much as 20 percent of blood donations during the school year, decline when many schools are out of session. But, the need for blood remains constant all summer long.

To make an appointment to give blood, download the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Those who come to donate between now and Sept. 5 can receive an exclusive Cedar Fair ticket offer that helps support the Red Cross, and enter to win one of two grand prize packages for four to Knott's Berry Farm in California or Cedar Point in Ohio. Blood drive participants can go to redcrossblood.org/cedarfair to purchase discounted tickets for gate admission and enter to win one of the two grand prize packages. For each ticket purchased through the website, Cedar Fair will donate $2 to the Red Cross to support its humanitarian mission. Terms and conditions apply and are available at redcrossblood.org/cedarfair.

All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age (16 with parental consent in some states), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood donors can now save time at their next donation by using RapidPass to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, prior to arriving at the blood drive. To get started and learn more, visit redcrossblood.org/RapidPass and follow the instructions on the site.

Activities begin at West Side Center

Amber L. Tomlinson

Excitement is building and the creation of the West Side Center is taking shape as the first activities of the summer have begun.

The West Side Center that was previously the Pulaski County Public Library Medaryville branch was the site for the first summer reading program on June 1. The summer reading program is sponsored by the Pulaski County Public Library.

Several local children gathered as the Purdue Extension Office held a program on eating healthy. Not only were the children educated but so were the parents.

The summer reading program is the first of several activities that will be held at the former library. In December of last year, the traditional use of the library stopped due to the increasing cost per item and the lack of interest from the public.

At the time, the library trustees were looking to enter into a lease agreement with another entity so a presence of the library could still be maintained.

The library then entered into a formal agreement with Pulaski County Human Services to relocate their West Side Center that is currently located in another Medaryville building.

Because the library wants to continue to have a presence in Medaryville, the summer reading program for children is continuing, along with Internet services, eBooks, audiobooks, music, streaming video and 24/7 WiFi.

"When the library board was attempting to decide what was going to happen with the building, they knew that they wanted to have a presence in the community still but they were not for sure what that presence would be," said MacKenzie Ledley, library executive director. "Another entity that was in the community and was in need of a new facility was human services at the West Side Center. This will give them the opportunity to come here and use the facility and allow the library to offer the eServices."

The current building that human services is using has a hole in the roof and other issues.

Ledley said the library board didn't want the building to become shuttered up as some of the other buildings are in Medaryville. The board has offered the building to human services for $1 a year and the board is providing a utility stipend to cover the costs of electronic use in the building.

The library left a number of books, a printer, copy machine and several computers. The library has done some maintenance on the building, such as painting, some new carpet, and some changes to the kitchen to better accommodate the services that human services offers.

The summer reading program will be held at the West Side Center on Wednesdays at 2 p.m. Events for both young and old will also be held on the third Thursday of each month beginning at 5:15 p.m. with the Young Rembrandts programs.

Ledley said the library has also partnered with the West Central Bookmobile and bought several books that are available for everyone.

Pulaski County Human Services is currently working to move into the new building. Human services will continue to provide hot lunches and community engagement programs.

SOME THINGS GET BETTER WITH AGE.

VOTER REGISTRATION INFORMATION IS NOT ONE OF THEM.

Unlike fine wine, voter registration is actually the best when it's fresh. So the Indiana Secretary of State is sending out postcards to people whose voter registration may be out of date. If you receive a card that requests a reply, please do so by August 5, 2016. Because old voter registration is about as welcome as warm mayonnaise.
