As a lifetime resident, father, and property owner, I'm invested in Pulaski County. In fact, I want nothing more than to make it succeed.

I've grown up showing livestock at the county 4-H fair, dancing the night away at the Fall Festival Teen Dance, walking through history at the Power from the Past, watching the Monterey Days parade, and attending the Medaryville townwide church service at the Potato Fest.

I know firsthand how great of an experience it is to grow up in Pulaski County; that's exactly why I've never wanted to leave. It's always been my ambition to move back to my family's farm and raise my children and that's exactly what I've done.

After graduating from Ball State, I married my longtime girlfriend and Pulaski Co. native, Abbie (Haring) Stalbaum. Once married, I immediately began working to make a difference in my community. I've served on several boards such as: Economic Development Commission, Regional Planning Commission, Town Council, Board of Zoning Appeals, and a local School Board.

My family is my motivation in everything that I do. I've been blessed with a wonderful wife, a beautiful little girl, and another baby expected to arrive in March. These blessings drive me not only to be a better man, father, and neighbor, they also motivate me to be a leader and a catalyst for positive change in my community. I want my children to have the desire to come back to Pulaski County, just as I did.

I want to provide my children and the youth of our county the realistic opportunities to make something of themselves in Pulaski County. No one should have to drive 2 hours one way to see their grandchildren, due to lack of local opportunities.

I know that for all of these goals to be accomplished, we need more collaboration in our county. We need to remember that we're all on the same team. This is exactly why I'm running for commissioner.
